BIG PROPERTY LOSS

MAMMOTH SNOWSLIDE IN THE MOUNT SNEFFELS DISTRICT IN COLORADO.

AT LEAST ONE LIFE IS LOST

WHILE UNCONFIRMED REPORTS SAY THAT SCORES OF MINERS PERISHED.

Ourray, Colo., March 19.—A mammoth snowslide in the Mount Sneffels district, six miles south of Ourray, during the night wrecked the Camp Bird mine mill, tramhouse, boardinghouse and readingroom. William Cressey is known to have been killed and it is feared that other lives were lost. A number of men, it is reported, were seriously injured. The property loss is estimated at from $400,000 to $500,000.

The Camp Bird bunkhouse, adjoining the readingroom, which was wrecked, narrowly escaped being engulfed and crushed. There were between 200 and 250 miners and mill employes in this building when the slide came down. The residence of General Manager Cox also escaped destruction by a narrow margin. The slide had largely spent its force before reaching the assay shops and general offices of the Camp Bird mine. This avalanche, which moves annually and is called the United States slide, was larger this year than ever before. It started moving at 7 o'clock p. m., following its usual course. As a rule it spends its force by the time it reaches the gulch, but this time it continued on to the Camp Bird mill, crushing it like an eggshell. This large mill, being in the direct path of the avalanche, checked its terrific force, otherwise it would probably have reached and destroyed the bunkhouse.

Communication Interrupted.

Telephone communication with the Mount Sneffels district has been interrupted for four days and the first news of the disaster was brought to this city during the afternoon by County Commissioner Smith, who left the mine at daybreak. A rescue party started out at once, but it will take them several hours to reach Mount Sneffels, as the roads and trains are blocked with snow.

A telephone message received here from Silverton at 3 p. m. stated that a report has been received there that scores of miners were killed by the destruction of the Camp Bird boardinghouse, but this report is discredited here.

The Camp Bird clubhouse was one of the finest ever built for a similar purpose. Camp Bird is the mine sold by Thomas E. Walsh, the millionaire mine owner, several years ago to an English company.

The destruction of the provision house at Camp Bird cuts off the food supply. The 250 men employed in the mine, fearing other slides may come, have taken refuge in the tunnel. Preparations are being made to rescue the men or get food to them before the snow makes it impossible to reach them.

Rescuing parties started from Ourray for the scene of the accident, but were forced back by the storm and it will be impossible for anyone to reach the mine for some hours yet.

In addition to those mentioned above, slides have run among all the mountains around Ourray.

During the afternoon a slide took out the power line of the Animas Mining company. Later a second slide destroyed three-quarters of a mile of the power line of the Telluride power plant, which furnishes power to the Revenue, San Pedro and Atlas mines.

Lines of communication have been interrupted to the following mines besides the Camp Bird: The Bankers National, employing 80 men; the Revenue, employing 200; the Atlas, employing 16; and the San Pedro, employing 160 men.

Suspect Is Not Simpkins.

Boise, Ida., March 19.—Detective Thiele has wired the governor that the suspect held at Oakley is not L. J. Simpkins, wanted for the murder of Former Governor Frank Steunenberg, and the man has been released. Captain Swain, the manager of a detective agency at Spokane, states that Simpkins is in the north and may have crossed into Canada.

No Trace of the Outlaws.

Vinita, I. T., March 19.—A courier who arrived here during the day from Marshal Darrrough's camp in the Spavinaw country says that no trace of the Wickliffe Indian outlaws had been found. It is believed that the outlaws will not attempt to leave the Spavinaw country, as it affords many places of concealment.

WILL DISPOSE OF THE BILL.

House to Act Upon Measure to Abolish Grade of Lieutenant General.

Washington, March 19.—The national house of representatives will begin the week by disposing of the bill authorizing the grade of lieutenant general in the army, over which a filibuster was in progress when adjournment was taken Friday night. The balance of the day will be given to the passage of minor bills under suspension of the rules. Thursday has been set apart for the passage of war claims. The other four legislative days Mr. Tawney, chairman of the appropriations committee, predicts will be required to complete the consideration of the legislative appropriation bill, which was before the house last week. Should this bill pass sooner, Chairman Overstreet will at once bring in the postoffice appropriation bill, which has been completed by his committee, and make it the order of business. The consideration of the postoffice bill will require something like a week as the question of railway mail substitutes will doubtless provoke discussion. Although the programme has not been determined, it is expected the statehood bill will be brought into the house on Wednesday and disposed of.

LOUISIANA NEGRO LYNCHED.

Hanged by a Mob for Stealing and Killing a Cow.

Plaquemine, La., March 19.—William Carr, a negro, was lynched at Bayou Plaquemine during the night for stealing and killing a cow.

Constable Walter Marionneaux and V. M. Patureau, a well known citizen of the Eighth ward, were on their way to the jail at this place with Carr when they were stopped by a crowd of about thirty-five masked men, who overpowered them and, taking the prisoner, hanged him to a railroad bridge.

BARONESS A SUICIDE

TITLED GERMAN WOMAN ENDS HER LIFE WITH A BULLET AT FORT LEAVENWORTH.

Leavenworth, Kan., March 19.—Caroline Von Dem Bussche, said to be the divorced wife of Baron Von Dem Bussche Hadenhausen, a German baron of Berlin, committed suicide by shooting at the headquarters of her son, Second Lieutenant Carl Frederick Von Dem Bussche of the Eighteenth Infantry, U. S. A., at Fort Leavenworth during the day. Lieutenant Von Dem Bussche is a cousin of Freiherr Von Dem Bussche Hadenhausen, first secretary of the German embassy at Washington, D. C.

No cause except that possibly melancholia is known for the woman having taken her life. The officers at the fort decline to make known any definite facts regarding the affair.

Mrs. Von Dem Bussche killed herself by firing a bullet into her head in her room adjoining her son's private room, where she had lived with him for some time past. She is known to have been treated last summer for a nervous disease at Denver, where the family formerly lived.

Baron Von Dem Bussche and his wife are said to have come to the United States from Prussia, where he was believed to have owned large estates several years ago. He was a mining engineer and for many years lived at Denver, where the son was born.

The son, Carl Frederick, enlisted in the Sixth Infantry in 1898 and in 1901 was commissioned a second lieutenant. Three years ago Lieutenant Von Dem Bussche was ordered to the Philippines with his regiment and his mother accompanied him. When he returned to Fort Leavenworth something over a year ago she followed him and since then has lived with the young officer at the officers' quarters at the fort. Six months ago her husband visited her here, but soon left and it was stated returned to Berlin, where he now resides. Later it became known that the couple had been divorced.

Mrs. Von Dem Bussche shot herself through the head at 10:30 a. m. She was forty-six years of age.

RUMOR IS UNFOUNDED.

Report That Snowslide Wrecked a Train Is Not Confirmed.

Telluride, Colo., March 19.—A rumor was in circulation here during the evening that a passenger train on the Rio Grande and Southern railway had been swept by a snowslide near Ophir Loop and thirty-five persons had been killed. Diligent inquiry has failed to disclose any foundation for the report. Railroad officials say there was no train in the vicinity of Ophir Loop at the time when the slide occurred.

For one week it has been storming almost continually in this district. There has not been a train run between Telluride and Durango for over a week and the road is still blocked by snowslides near Ophir and Rio. Telegraph and telephone communications are seriously interrupted.

ALL ON BOARD SAVED

STEAMER ATLANTA IS BURNED TO THE WATER'S EDGE NEAR SHEBOYGAN, WIS.

SHIP AND CARGO TOTAL LOSS

CREW OF SIXTY MEN AND TWO PASSENGERS RESCUED BY THE TUG TESSLER.

Sheboygan, Wis., March 19.—The Goodrich steamer Atlanta, which left this port for Milwaukee at 10 o'clock a. m., was burned to the water's edge twelve miles south of Sheboygan and about five miles out. The Atlanta is valued at about $150,000 and the boat and cargo are a total loss. The Atlanta left Sheboygan at 10 o'clock southbound with a crew of sixty men and only two passengers. The fire was discovered at 11:15 by smoke from the hold and the blaze was located with great difficulty. The crew of men was set to work fighting the flames at once and the fight was kept up until 1 o'clock, when Captain McCauley decided to abandon the ship. The crew and two passengers were put off in the lifeboats and were picked up by the tug Tessler without trouble, as there was no sea running. About this time the steamer Georgia hove in sight and relieved the Tessler of her load of passengers. The Georgia proceeded to this port, leaving the Atlanta a total wreck close to the beach, for which she had been run. The origin of the fire is a mystery to the officers of the boat, but it is thought it may have been started by a carelessly thrown cigar. But one life was lost in the wreck, Mike Hickey, a deckhand, was drowned in trying to escape from the flames. His home is unknown.

The fact that there was not a heavy sea, which is usual at this time of year, undoubtedly saved many lives. It was impossible to obtain the names of the two passengers, as the boat's books were burned in the fire. The Atlanta was commanded by Captain McCauley, who stands high with the Goodrich company. The first mate was George Stines and the chief engineer was Joseph Predeka. None of the officers cared to make a statement as to the cause of the fire.

STRIKE SITUATION SERIOUS.

Citizens of Lethbridge, Can., Fear Miners May Become Disorderly.

Great Falls, Mont., March 19.—The strike of the coal miners at Lethbridge, Alberta, Can., has caused so much uneasiness among the citizens that they have called upon the Dominion government to render assistance. The Northwest mounted police have been placed in control of the town and martial law practically prevails. This action appears to have irritated the miners still further and the citizens fear grave disorders.

More than 500 men, members of the union, are on strike and there are still 100 at work under police protection. These are greeted daily by volleys of snowballs and stones as they go to work.

During the evening an explosion of dynamite occurred in the outskirts of the town, but no damage was done. It is thought to have been accidental.

F. H. Sherman, district president of the union workers, says the strike may be extended to other coal mines in Alberta and British Columbia unless an agreement is reached.

Many of the smaller towns in Alberta are now on the verge of a coal famine. All shipments to outside points have been stopped.

WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH.

Five Others Overcome by Smoke at a Fire in Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., March 19.—Miss Agnes Inman, a corsetmaker, who came here three months ago from St. Louis, was burned to death and five other women were overcome by smoke in a fire in the annex of the Altman building at Eleventh and Walnut streets in this city at night. Most of the tenants of the building are professional women and many of them sleep in their offices. Miss Inman was sleeping on the fourth floor and she was dead when the firemen found her. The other women were taken down stairs on ladders by the firemen. They were all revived in a short time. The fire started from a kiln in which artists had been burning china. The property loss is trivial.

Armed Crowd Attacks a Prison.

Warsaw, Russian Poland, March 19.—An armed crowd during the day attacked the prison at Pawia street, killed a warder and mortally injured two others and liberated a political prisoner named Zaleski.

UNTERMYER FILES A PROTEST.

Objects to Campaign of New York Life Officers for Their Re-Election.

New York, March 19.—Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the International Policyholders' committee of the New York Life Insurance company, during the day sent a letter to Alexander E. Orr, president of the New York Life, protesting in the name of the policyholders against what he terms the extraordinary effort that is being made by the officers of the company to obtain proxies for the annual election which is to be held early in April.

Mr. Untermyer's letter explains the objection of the committee and declares that no election should be held until legislation affecting the insurance business is passed.

Addressing Mr. Orr, Mr. Untermyer says that as the representative of upwards of 50,000 policyholders in the company he has been instructed to protest in their behalf "against the extraordinary use that is being made by you and your officers of the agency force of the company who are being pressed into the service of soliciting proxies for the re-election of yourself and associates as directors at enormous expense to the policyholders."

"I am informed," the letter continues, "that within the past few days you sent out from your head office to your entire agency force throughout the country telegrams urging them to collect proxies. I have before me one of a number of printed letters and circulars issued from your head office signed by the cashier of your company with an accompanying form of proxy addressed to policyholders, enclosing a biography of each of the directors and officers whom you seek to re-elect, including yourself. This proxy is sent to Messrs. John Claflin, Oscar S. Strauss and Clarence P. Mackay, of whom biographies are also enclosed, printed at the expense of the policyholders."

"If these documents have been sent to every policyholder the cost to the company of postage alone would be about $30,000 and the cost of printing the stationery as much more. How you justify such expenditures (to say nothing of the manifest impropriety of such action at this juncture) I fail to understand."

"These documents are coming to us in great numbers from infuriated policyholders, with the request that our committee take some action to prevent your thus wasting the money of the policyholders in the attempt to return yourself to office."

Leads in Billiard Tournament.

Chicago, March 17.—Edward W. Gardner of Passaic, N. J., has the lead in the amateur billiard tournament here, having four victories to his credit without a loss. J. F. Poggenburg of New York also has a percentage of 1,000, but he has played only three games.

Attends Confirmation.

Groton, Mass., March 17.—Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt attended the confirmation services at the Groton school during the day. It is expected that she will leave soon for Washington. Kermit Roosevelt, who is a student at the school, was among those confirmed.

RATE BILL IN SENATE

DEBATE ON RAILROAD MEASURE

WILL MONOPOLIZE ATTENTION OF THAT BODY.

SENATOR TILLMAN'S POLICY

INTENDS TO PRESS CONSIDERATION OF BILL TO EXCLUSION OF EVERYTHING ELSE.

Washington, March 19.—The debate on the railroad rate bill will continue in the senate during the present week. The prospect is that this bill will more completely monopolize attention this week than it did last, for while under the original arrangement the rate bill could not be taken up until 2 o'clock each day, its consideration can now be entered on under Senator Tillman's present policy every day as soon as the routine business, such as introduction of bills and presentation of reports, is concluded. Mr. Tillman has announced his purpose of pressing the consideration of this bill to the exclusion of everything else when anyone is prepared to speak on it. "And," he said, "when there is no one ready to speak I shall ask the senate to proceed to vote upon the measure." That, however, he will not be unreasonable in this respect was shown by the fact that he agreed on Thursday to take a recess until Monday, because notwithstanding there are many senators who will ask to be heard upon the bill before the final vote shall be taken, no speeches had been prepared. It is the intention to give everyone who really wants to speak an opportunity to do so, but if when all the speeches are made there shall seem to be a disposition to delay final action this effort will be antagonized. The speechmaking will be inaugurated by an address by Senator McCreery of Kentucky.

A number of other senators will be heard during the week in formal speeches but the order of delivery has not been determined. Among those who are preparing speeches are Messrs. Elkins, Spooner, Lodge, Foster and McLaurin. Senator Spooner will discuss the dealing especially with the question of review of the findings of the Interstate commerce commission by the United States courts. Senator Lodge will devote himself especially to the presentation of his reasons for desiring the enlargement of the commission as outlined in his amendment. In all probability most of the speeches will precipitate running debates, as did Mr. Rayner's address of last Wednesday. Indeed, the disposition is to question most of the statements made on the floor of the senate and from this time forward very few speakers will be permitted to escape without interruption.

Legal Aspects of the Subject,

Though much attention is being given to the presentation of the merits of the question pro and con, a still larger number of senators are devoting themselves even more assiduously to the preparation of amendments to the bill. The Republican senators who do not accept the senate bill are concentrating their efforts upon a court review proposition and they have practically agreed upon the Fifth section of Senator Knox's substitute for the pending bill as the basis of their amendment. This section authorizes the taking of any matter decided by the interstate commerce commission to the United States circuit courts and requires the railway companies to deposit the difference between their own rates and the rates fixed by the commission pending the final adjudication of each particular case. Senator Spooner has an amendment along the same lines, but it goes into greater detail and the indications are that much of his phraseology may be accepted.

The Democrats are working in among the lines to secure an amendment which shall prevent the lower courts from suspending rates fixed by the commission. Senator Tillman is giving his special attention to modifications which will prohibit the railroad companies from owning the commodities which they carry.

WOMAN KILLS HER GUEST.

Tells the Police That the Shooting Was Accidental.

Kansas City, March 19.—Mrs. Ida Donielson, while entertaining a party of friends at dinner during the day, became enraged at a remark of E. C. Harris, a painter, one of the guests, and shot and killed him. Harris had made a remark about Mrs. Donielson to which C. R. Riggins, the woman's nephew, took exception. The men quarreled. Riggins and his wife finally went for a policeman and while they were gone Mrs. Donielson killed Harris. At first Mrs. Donielson said she shot Harris in self-defense and later she told the police that the shooting was accidental. There were no witnesses to the tragedy.

MITCHELL WRITES TO BAER.

Proposes That Miners and Operators Hold Further Conferences.

Indianapolis, March 19.—President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America has mailed to George F. Baer, chairman of the anthracite coal operators' committee, his reply to the committee's communication rejecting the demands of the miners' organization. The letter, dated March 17, regrets that the demands of the miners are rejected in toto and says that the miners do not think that either the operators or themselves can afford to break off negotiations in such an abrupt manner and says that further meetings should be held in order to reconsider differences. The miners, the letter says, cannot continue to work under present conditions, but they are unwilling to break off negotiations without first making further efforts to reconcile the differences. Therefore, it is proposed that further conference or conferences be held between now and April 1.

SINCE Frank Eddy announced his intention of not becoming a candidate for governor the democratic papers of the state have been busy with the information that he was the only man in the state who could have defeated Johnson. They should have given Frank the tip before he declined the bouquets that were coming his way.

THE Warroad Plaindealer with sincere regrets announces that contrary to the advice so freely offered, Frank Eddy has declined to become a candidate for governor and that the Plaindealer stands ready to support the nominee of the party for that place. Why wouldn't it be a good idea to publish a list of the republican papers that will stay by the party at the coming election.

THE trial of the voting machines at the recent primary election in St. Paul resulted in demonstrating their usefulness and accuracy. The machines do away with clerk hire and obviates the tedious delay in waiting for results. In the seventh ward of that city the first precinct returned the result within two minutes after the polls closed. The average time consumed by voters was less than a minute.

A GROUP of Russians, with foreign connections, who have a desire to extricate the country from its financial difficulties have made a proposition to the powers that be to take over the government railroads for $750,000,000 and operate them privately under foreign management. The proposition has been so far declined although the roads are now operated at a loss.

CHARLEY MITCHELL has sold his Fairmont News and will succeed Mary McFadden as editorial writer on the Duluth News-Tribune. Miss McFadden will be missed by the Minnesota newspaper fraternity, but all will wish her success in her new field of labor which is in the speakers bureau of the national campaign committee in the East. We serve notice on Charlie that he will have to go some.

BROWER NOT A CANDIDATE

St. Cloud Man will not be Candidate for Congressional Nomination Against C.

B. Buckman in Sixth District

The Minneapolis Journal in its Sunday edition contains the following: Ripley B. Brower, of St. Cloud, who has been touring the Sixth district and organizing a campaign for months past, will not be a candidate. The announcement he had promised to make about April 1 will not be made.

Brower's decision, his friends say, is not due to any faint heart, but to personal and business reasons. His business partner has been much opposed to his running, and their practice needs the constant attention of both. Then Alvah Eastman and James A. Martin, close political friends of Brower's are friends of Buckman, Eastman holding a land office position and Martin the post-office. Brower had received much encouragement, and with a vigorous canvass expected to win, but he yielded to the wishes of his friends, and has promised that he will not file for the nomination.

HAMILTON GOING TO NEW YORK.

Declines to Say What His Intentions Are at Present.

Albany, N. Y., March 19.—Judge Andrew Hamilton said during the evening that he expected to go to New York in the morning to remain two or three days. He would not say what were his intentions as to his visit or whether he would see any member of the Fowler committee, which has been investigating the internal affairs of the New York Life Insurance company. Friends of Judge Hamilton here express doubt as to his going before the committee, questioning the propriety of his submitting himself to the men whom he has characterized as he did the New York Life trustees in his speech before the legislative committee last week.

Judge Hamilton during the evening expressed the opinion that when the bills proposed by the Armstrong committee are submitted to the legislature they should provide that no trustee legislated out of office next November, as recommended by the committee, shall be eligible for re-election until a full year has elapsed.

"The propriety of this is obvious," said Judge Hamilton, "and I believe a demand for it is coming to a head. You know we have adopted from the English common law the precaution that no sheriff can be re-elected until a term of service has elapsed. The theory is, and it applies equally to a trustee of a life insurance company, that a sheriff exercises such an immense power that he could at will command his re-election. So with these trustees—they are in a position, which would enable them by favoring one and persecuting another, to command proxies to secure their re-election if they see fit. This should be prevented by making their re-election illegal.

I note that some of these gentlemen in New York say they do not know me. It certainly seems strange that any man should be in a position to spend very large sums of money of which they are the legal guardians during a long term of years and yet be totally unknown to them."

When the Sap Begins to Stir.

When the sap begins to stir, he begins to think of her,
And the young buds of affection begin to swell and sprout,
And he banishes all fear, for he says,
"Spring's surely here!"
And pretty soon "intentions" begin to blossom out.

(Oh, it's a dangerous thing,
This premature spring!
A fellow can't be wise
When the sap begins to rise.)

When the sap begins to stir, he can only think of her,
And it rises and it rises till it gets into his head,
And he feels that winter's done and that springtime has begun,
And then it's very likely that he'll ask her to be wed.

(Oh, it's an awful time,
This reason and of rhyme,
When the sap goes to the head
And he thinks he must be wed!)

When the sap begins to stir, he goes a-courting her,
And naturally a saphead hasn't got a lick of sense.
He sees that she is fair, and he doesn't see or care
That a lady's clothes and vittles mean considerable expense.

(Oh, it's an awful season,
Early springtime; without reason,
When the sap goes to the head,
And a lady must be fed!)

When the sap begins to stir, then it's only him and her,
(And the sap it rises early to a counter-felt of spring.)
Then comes a nipping frost, and "the peach crop's wholly lost,"
But there's another "cynic" with an unused wedding ring.

(Oh, an awful time it is
When a young affection's friz,
But more sap next spring'll stir
For another him and her!)

TO AILING WOMEN

A Little Sound Advice Will Help Many a Sufferer in Brainerd

No woman can be healthy and well if the kidneys are sick. Poisons that pass off in the urine when the kidneys are well are retained in the body when the kidneys are sick. Kidneys and bladder get inflamed and swollen, crowding the delicate female organs nearby and sometimes displacing them. This is the true cause of many bearing-down pains, lameness, backache, sideache, etc. Uric poisoning also causes headaches, dizzy spells, languor, nervousness and rheumatic pain.

When suffering so, try Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy that cures sick kidneys. You will get better as the kidneys get better, and health will return when the kidneys are well. Let a Brainerd woman tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. J. H. Zellers, of 915 Main St., Brainerd, Minn., says: "I believe that after what Doan's Kidney Pills did for me they will help anyone similarly troubled. Before using them I suffered for six months from my kidneys. There was a miserable feeling of pressure over those organs and the secretions were scanty. Besides this there was a heavy pain across the small of my back. A box of Doan's Kidney Pills were gotten at a drug store and I took them with the result that they acted like a charm. I can truthfully say that I have not had a symptom since."

On October 28th, 1904, six years after giving the above statement, Mrs. Zellers says: "I am just as glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills today as I was in 1898. I have not had an attack of kidney trouble since I used Doan's Kidney Pills, and must give them credit for a permanent cure."

MEMORY OF ST. PATRICK

Patron Saint of the Irish People
Was Honored on Saturday Evening

OPERA HOUSE WELL FILLED

Patriotic Program Rendered—
Excellent Address by Mr.
James P. Boyle

The memory of St. Patrick, the patron saint of the Irish people, was revered on Saturday evening when the Brainerd opera house was packed on the occasion, an excellent program was rendered as ed and an address of more than unusual interest was delivered by Mr. James P. Boyle, of Indianapolis. The event prov- on all former events one of interest to the Irish people of Brainerd as well as all others, and there was a big demand for seats.

The opera house on the interior had been appropriately decorated for the occasion, the green being prominent in all the scheme. On the stage an elevated platform had been erected which was covered with green carpeting and on this was stationed Graham's orchestra. The emblem of the A. O. H. hung over the stage and two large flags were artistically draped over the rear curtain.

The program opened with an overture, "Grand Irish Medley," by Graham's orchestra. Miss Kathleen Graham then rendered a patriotic air in her usual excellent style and she was obliged to respond to an encore. She was in excellent voice and seems to improve each year. The next number on the program was a piano duet by Miss Jennie Mysen and Miss Georgia Horn. They were also given an encore and responded with a second very excellent selection.

Prof. Lensrud gave a violin solo and was given much applause. A cornet solo by Prof. William Graham was one of the pleasing numbers of the program. Mr. Graham is without doubt one of the best players on this instrument in the northwest today. A piano duet by the Misses Beare and Cullen was an unusually pleasing number and they were obliged to respond to an encore. C. A. Wood, a well known resident of this city, appeared in a skit entitled "Silence and Fun." He is a contortion- ist of ability and amused the audience very much. The last musical number on the program was a selection by Graham's orchestra.

The address by Mr. James P. Boyle was of course the feature of the program. Mr. Boyle since he has been going away to school has been heard once or twice on Labor Days in the open air, which is always unsatisfactory to a public speaker, but this was the first opportunity that a Brainerd audience has had to hear him to good advantage. He was at his best Saturday night and fairly captivated his hearers from the outstart. His address was one of the best, if not the best, ever heard in this city viewed from different standpoints. His rhetoric is perfect, his enunciation fault- less, and his delivery eloquent and convincing and withal he is a student of national questions second to none for his age in the United States today. His address on Saturday evening would be a credit to a man of maturer years and very often men who have a greater national reputation than Mr. Boyle could not have done so well.

The address dealt with the history of the Irish people, their great struggle for freedom and the place that they have occupied in the word in all lines of advanced thought. The speaker consumed about an hour's time and it is to be regretted that the whole address cannot be printed. It was one of the best efforts ever heard in Brainerd.

DELEGATES APPEAR HOPEFUL

Believe France and Germany Will Arrive at an Agreement.

Algeciras, Spain, March 19.—The general disposition of the delegates to the conference on Moroccan reforms continues inclined toward optimism, but no further apparent movement has been made in the direction of a solution of the points at issue between France and Germany. The delegates of the neutral powers confer separately with the French and German delegates several times daily, striving to modify the outwardly uncompromising stand taken by both sides. It is the general belief, however, that the present situation of indecision will not change until further instructions arrive from Paris and Berlin.

Meanwhile the French and German delegates do not discuss the situation together. Each side is vainly awaiting the sign of a concession from the other and maintaining its respective standpoint. The neutral delegates do not believe the deadlock will last much longer and express the conviction that neither France nor Germany will allow the conference to fail after such prodigious efforts have been made by all the powers represented to have them reach an equitable understanding.

STORM IN THE SOUTHWEST.

Street Car and Railway Traffic Badly Impeded.

Kansas City, March 19.—An unusually heavy snowstorm prevails in the Southwest. The storm, accompanied by a stiff north wind, began early in the day and up to a late hour continued unabated. The wind drifted the snow badly, both in city and country. Street car traffic in Kansas City and other Kansas and Missouri points was totally stopped or badly interrupted. Railway trains in every direction were delayed.

Although the weather was not especially cold much suffering resulted.

Drydock Continues Its Journey.

ATTORNEY DELURY RESIGNED

And there are Three well Known
Cass County Attorneys Af-

There will be a meeting of the county commissioners of Cass county at Walker tomorrow afternoon and a real warm fight is scheduled to be pulled off over the office of county attorney.

County Attorney DeLury has resigned his position to take effect at once and the commissioners will elect some one to succeed him tomorrow. There are three candidates for the position, J. S. Scribner, of Backus, Attorney La-Duc, of Pine River, and Attorney Frank Smith, of Cass Lake. It said that there was a deal on between DeLury and Scribner whereby the latter was to step into the office, but a strong fight has been put up against Scribner and there is a question whether he can land the place.

NANCE O'NEIL TONIGHT

Nance O'Neil with her two large baggage cars and an extra sleeper arrived from the west this morning and will be seen at the Brainerd opera house tonight. Of her performance of "The Fires of St. John" the Grand Forks Press of March 16 has the following to say:

"Nance O'Neil played 'The Fires of St. John' last night to a good audience in the metropolitan. Yet the house could have accommodated more people, and those who did not go who should have gone, will trip over themselves to get there tonight, and be in first at 'Magda,' which she will play this evening.

ent, and it would be difficult for one to conceive of a better rendition of the part she played last night in "The Fires of St. John." She seems to entertain the most complete sense of her lines, and this, assisted by a voice of finest cultivation, coupled with her native powers of elocution and grace of pose and gesture, give her the reputation she bears. She is mistress of her art—her art is her nature—her nature is composed of womanly grace and passion, which render her not an actress, but the woman giving away before your very eyes to the stormy impulses of a deep-souled woman.

"It does not pay to miss seeing her, for the occasions upon which one can see a Nance O'Neil are infrequent in a life time."

USING REPRESSIVE MEASURES

Russian Government Trying to Stop
Strike Agitation.

St. Petersburg, March 19.—The government is using the most repressive measures to stop the agitation for a strike of railway men and telegraphers. A meeting of the former at Rostoff-on-Don was surrounded and invaded during the day by Cossacks, who fired into the assemblage, killing two persons and wounding eight.

At Moscow troops are now guarding all the railway stations and several factories, including the Abrikosoff works, where the workmen are restive.

H. P. Dunn & Co. Make Public Formula of Mi-o-na, the Guaranteed Cure for Stomach Troubles.

H. P. Dunn & Co. are very anxious to have Mi-o-na, a remedy which they sell under a guarantee as a cure for stomach troubles, tested rigidly in every case of heart-burn, acute dyspepsia, wind on the stomach, loss of appetite, annoying dreams, sleeplessness, general weakness and debility, or where the vital powers need restoration, and the digestive organs do not act as they should.

Mi-o-na is composed of bismuth subgallate, by all odds the very best medicine known for intestinal diseases.

With this is combined cerium oxalate, a standard remedy in the treatment of all irritation of the stomach and digestive organs.

Sodium bicarbonate is then added to overcome the excessive acidity usually present in stomach troubles, and nuxvomica for its general tonic and nerve-strengthening powers.

A large box of Mi-o-na tablets is sold for 50 cents by H. P. Dunn & Co., with an absolute guarantee of curing or money refunded.

ROUSING CRUSADE FOR SOULS

How the Torrey and Alexander Revival Is Stirring Philadelphia to Its Very Depths.

Entire City In Grip of Religious Enthusiasm.
Striking Decrease in Crime—Police
Finding Little to Do—Saloon Keepers
Losing Trade—Thousands Seeking the Unsaved on Streets and Trolley
Cars.

By GEORGE T. B. DAVIS.
The revival campaign led by Evangelists Torrey and Alexander is stirring Philadelphia in a way that it has never been moved before since the days of Moody and Sankey. Religion seems to be the chief topic of conversation in the homes and restaurants and wherever people congregate. A city politician has expressed the fear that political issues may be lost sight of in the revival enthusiasm which is being awakened.
Last Sunday the revival fire burst out into a bright flame, when at the big Torrey-Alexander meetings at the armory both afternoon and evening over 200 converts were recorded among the nearly 12,000 people in attendance at the services. The afternoon meeting was for women only and that at night for men only, and yet in spite of the division of the sexes thousands were turned away. In the afternoon over 1,000 women thronged Broad street waiting for the doors to open.

"Loveliest People I Ever Met."
During the first week the evangelists had a hard time in waking up the Christians of Philadelphia to go after the unsaved. As Dr. Torrey saw their slowness in soul winning he cried out one night: "You are the laziest crowd of Christians I ever struck in my life, and I have been literally around the world. Do you just want to come here and listen to the singing and preaching, or do you want a revival? You are the loveliest people that I ever met," he continued, "but my, my, you are lazy! What are you Christians saved for anyway?"
Now, however, the church members are being stirred up in a way that marks the beginning of a sweeping revival. They are going after the unsaved even on the streets and in the street cars. It is not an infrequent thing to have a man accost you with, "Are you saved?" A lady told how a street car conductor, after taking her fare, asked her if she was a Christian, and she declared that the thought of the man's concern for her soul rang in her mind all the day long.
In his sermons during the past week Dr. Torrey has spoken straight from the shoulder to the people of Philadelphia. One night in speaking on the Ten Commandments he spoke in scathing language on certain modern evils. At one point, in speaking of the sixth commandment, he said:
"There is another kind of murder, and I hardly know how to approach it. It is the most awful and the most appalling kind of all kinds of murder, a kind of murder that is sweeping over our country. Mothers murdering their own children yet unborn to avoid the highest and holiest of all responsibility and opportunity—that of motherhood. Some of them run after a man who has M. D. to his name. It ought to be D. M.—damnable murderer!"

Saluted With a College Veil.
A series of revival meetings has been commenced by the evangelists in the various universities and colleges of Philadelphia. The first was held in the Medical-Chirurgical college. Others will be held in the University of Pennsylvania and in other schools. The faculty and 700 medical students gathered in the operating amphitheater to hear the famous evangelists and as they entered saluted them lustily with the college yell. Amid hushed attention Dr. Torrey preached for three quarters of an hour to the student body. He said in part:

"There is no more noble profession in the world than yours. If I were not a preacher of Jesus Christ's gospel I would be a surgeon and be proud of it. There is no man on earth who can wield a greater power for good than a Christian man of medicine. Your mere example, given at a time when your patients realize that the things of this world are not all, can accomplish wonders."
"I know a surgeon in Europe who before performing an operation declares before the assembled students in his clinics, 'Gentlemen, I am a Christian,' and asks them to pray for the success of the knife. I will not call on any of you here to openly confess Christ, but I hope that deep down in your hearts you have the convictions of Christianity and will some day use them in your public practice."
In no uncertain terms Dr. Torrey told the students that he believes in a personal devil.
"There is in every one of us," he said, "a power of appetite, of passion, of sin, a power of evil outside ourselves—more than we can master of ourselves. We need a hiding place from the devil. I believe there is a devil—first, because the Old Book says so, and, second, because my experience and my personal observation teaches me that there is a personal devil. Theosophy, Christian Science, Spiritualism and all the other cults are simply footprints of the devil. They are all rot, and yet some of the ablest men and women in this country and England believe in one or other of them. They are not insane; they are just as sane as we are. What does it mean? Only that the devil is more than a match for you or me. We need a hiding place."

Striking Moral Results.
The moral results of the revival are being strikingly seen in the part of the city in which the meetings are being held. Not a single prisoner appeared in the police court before the magistrates on Sunday from the three districts which adjoin the armory where the revival meetings are being held. This is an event, it is stated, which has rarely if ever occurred before. The policemen in the district declare that they have had little or nothing to do since the revival began. It is said that the saloon keepers are doing scarcely a third of their usual amount of business. This new order of things is declared to be due to the fact that the young men of the neighborhood are attending the revival meetings instead of loafing on the street corners and in the saloons. When a policeman was asked about the change he said: "We haven't enjoyed such a clench in my twenty-five years' experience. I hope Dr. Torrey and Mr. Alexander decide to make the armory a permanent place for revivals. I haven't made an arrest for three days."

Revival Melodies Heard Everywhere.
The new revival melodies of Charles M. Alexander, the singing associate of Dr. Torrey in the revival crusade, are taking Philadelphia by storm. They seem to be almost the only songs one hears on the pianos and in the homes throughout the city. One of the prime favorites is entitled "The Hand That Was Wounded For Me," the first verse and chorus of which are as follows:
The hand that was nailed to the cross of
In love reaches down to the world below;
'Tis beckoning now to the souls that roam
And pointing the way to the heavenly home.

The hand of my Saviour I see,
The hand that was wounded for me.
'Twill lead me in love to the mansions above,
The hand that was wounded for me.

Another song which has become instantly popular and which bids fair to rival "The Old Time Religion" is entitled "The Old Time Fire." It has a swinging melody and goes with a tremendous sweep when sung by a multitude of 5,000 men under the inspiring leadership of the magnetic conductor Alexander. The men seem to catch the revival fire as they sing:
Oh, for that flame of living fire
Which shone so bright in saints of old,
Which bade their souls to heaven aspire,
Calm in distress, in danger bold!

Send the old time fire upon us, Lord!
Send the old time fire upon us, Lord!
Send the old time fire upon us, Lord!
And burn up all the dross.

In a recent sermon Dr. Torrey graphically described how he surrendered his heart to God when he was on the point of committing suicide. His father was a rich man who had sent him to Yale college at fifteen years of age and had given him plenty of money to spend. The young man sought pleasure in almost every form of dissipation. "Did I find it?" he said. "I did not. I found disappointment; I found barrenness; I found heartache and wretchedness. Then I plunged more deeply into dissipation and sin. Until at last, still a very young man, I sprang from my bed one awful night, rushed to the washstand drawer, drew it open and put my hand into it to take out of it the weapon that would end the whole miserable business. For some reason or other I couldn't find it. I don't know to this day why I couldn't find it. I think it was there. And there beside that open drawer I dropped on my knees, and I told God that if he would take the awful burden off my heart I would preach the gospel. I didn't expect to find joy. I did hope that I might get rid of some of my misery. But to my utter amazement I found a joy in Christ that I never dreamed of in the world, and, though more than a quarter of a century has passed since, my joy is brighter tonight than it ever was before."

AERONAUT'S BOLD PLAN

Charles Levee Would Sail Skies Over Great Lakes.

HOPES TO CROSS THEM IN SUMMER

Equipped With a Good Balloon There Is No Danger in the Trip During Warm Months, Says French Balloonist Who Made Thrilling Flight Halfway Across the Catskills—Incidents of His Voyage.

Members of the Aero Club of America have been enthusiastically discussing the eighty mile flight recently made by Charles Levee, the French aeronaut, when he sped in his balloon from West Point halfway across the Catskills and then back to Hurley, N. Y., where he landed. Preparations are soon to be made for other ascensions at either West Point, Pittsfield or Tuxedo.

Had it not been for the light breeze at the start, which made his progress comparatively slow, and the change in the wind while he was above the mountains the aeronaut admitted that he would have tried to cross the Catskills and land somewhere in the Mohawk valley. But by the time he had been aloft between two and three hours he realized that the supply of gas was becoming exhausted, and he sought a landing place, which he found at ten minutes past 8 o'clock in a field at the rear of the residence of Matthew Ten Eyck De Witt after four hours and fifteen minutes had elapsed since his ascension.

When he returned to New York Mr. Levee gave the following description of his trip, says the New York Herald:

"One of my hopes is that I may cross the great lakes, but that is a trip that ought not to be attempted except in the summer months. I understand that the upper currents over the lakes have not been studied, but there would be absolutely no danger during the warm months, provided, of course, one had a good balloon. It would have to be larger and heavier than the one I used on Sunday, Feb. 11, and under those conditions anybody could trust himself with an experienced aeronaut to the trip without serious danger of accident."

"For West Point as a place for ascensions I have nothing but praise, but the next time it would be better to start from the middle of the parade ground, so as to obviate all danger of striking some object when the balloon is let go. The gas with which the balloon was inflated is the best I have ever used, but another time the pressure ought to be greater and the pipe leading from the tanks to the balloon larger, so that not so much time would be lost in making ready to start. The capacity of the balloon I used is 12,250 cubic feet."

"Nowhere except in the Alps have I seen such magnificent scenery. The mountains are high enough, so that even from a height of 3,000 feet the ridges and valleys show a strong contrast, which is not true of the comparatively low hills of France near Paris. At the same time the Catskills are not too high to bar any experienced aeronaut with a good balloon from crossing them and landing many miles beyond them. There are difficulties in the way of making extended trips, however, while the weather is cold. The silk covering of the balloon becomes brittle for one thing, and the freezing of the sand ballast makes it impossible to sprinkle it out in small lots, which is the usual mode of procedure. But these are minor points, and, taken as a whole, the trip was a complete success."

"I found very little wind until I was up 2,400 feet, where there was at first a strong wind from the south. At ten minutes after 4 o'clock, fifteen minutes after the start, I sailed under the shadow of Storm King, where I had to throw over ballast, as the gas contracted. Fifteen minutes later I was off Cornwall, where for ten minutes I hung almost stationary at a height of about 1,500 feet."

"Then came a wind from the southeast, and at an altitude of 3,000 feet, the highest point I reached, I was carried along at a rate of twenty miles an hour. When the sun set at 5 o'clock I had to throw over a bag of ballast, and ten minutes later all that I had left was frozen solid."

"It was just ten minutes after 6 o'clock when I was directly above the crest of the Catskills. I am certain of my general position because of the wide view I had, but except that I was about due west of the point at which I landed I do not know the exact spot, never having been over the country. Then the clouds began to gather, and the wind turned sharply and drove me down a deep valley. I held the balloon most of the way not more than 200 feet from the earth and let my guide rope drag over the roofs of the houses over which I passed. We do that in Europe sometimes, and the people inside think the devil is riding in the air, but it evidently did not disturb any one whose home I hit."

"Finally the guide rope caught in the top of a tree and held me up with a jerk. To save the balloon from being torn I cast the rope loose. As I came down the valley with the wind blowing about twenty miles an hour I kept close to the ground, looking for a landing place, and finally, after what turned out to be about two hours, I saw the field back of Mr. De Witt's place. When nobody answered my shouts I pulled the rip cord and landed in deep snow. Just as I was trying to land there was a sudden squall, but I made it all right, and the only danger was of tearing the balloon. I am ready and anxious to make another ascension as soon as possible."

EARTHQUAKE IN FORMOSA.

Causes a Death List of From One Hundred to Eight Hundred.

London, March 19.—The Daily Telegraph's Tokio correspondent, telegraphing concerning the earthquake Saturday morning in the vicinity of Sagai, Island of Formosa, says that the railway lines were twisted, telegraph poles thrown down and houses destroyed. The correspondent says that the Nichi Shimbun states that the casualties exceeded 100 and that the Jiji Shimo places them as high as 800. An official dispatch, he adds, reports sixty deaths and many more persons injured and 200 houses destroyed.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one cured disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
